

Author Bio: Corrine Kenner

Corrine Kenner specializes in bringing metaphysical subjects down to earth. She's an author, astrologer, tarot card reader, and owner of the Haunted Antique Shop in DeLand, Florida. She's also a medium who uses tarot and astrology to connect with spirits on the Other Side. She's written more than two dozen guidebooks on tarot and astrology, and she's helped create several best-selling tarot decks.

Corrine started her career as a newspaper reporter, and in the years since then she has worked as a magazine editor, book editor, media relations specialist, ghostwriter, and website developer. She's written hundreds of newspaper, magazine, and website articles, as well as dozens of how-to guides and technical manuals.

Many of her books have been translated for a worldwide audience: they're available in Chinese, French, Greek, Hungarian, Indonesian, Italian, Japanese, Polish, Portuguese, Romanian, Russian, Spanish, Turkish, and Vietnamese.

Corrine has lived in Brazil, where she learned a little Portuguese, and Los Angeles, where she earned a bachelor's degree in philosophy from California State University. In 2016, she spent a month in a French castle, writing a novel—a project that was featured on CNN. She's also had the good fortune to speak at tarot conferences across the United States, Canada, and England.
